

Hilbert Group Launches Hilbert Finance

Hilbert Finance, built on the Nordark platform, will become Hilbert Group's dedicated business vertical for institutional crypto lending, financial infrastructure and future licensed financial services.

Hilbert Group AB (Nasdaq First North: HILB B) today announced the launch of Hilbert Finance, a new business vertical alongside the Group's asset management operations, supporting Hilbert's continued development as a full-service institutional digital asset company. Hilbert Finance is built on the platform and technology acquired through Nordark and represents the next step in Hilbert's strategy of building a full-stack institutional digital asset platform. The division is designed to provide the foundation for a growing range of regulated financial products as Hilbert continues to expand its financial services offering.

"Hilbert Finance represents an important milestone in Hilbert Group's evolution," said Barnali Biswal, CEO of Hilbert Group. "By bringing our crypto services together under the Hilbert brand, we are creating a stronger and more unified platform for institutional clients. Hilbert Finance broadens our offering beyond asset management and moves us another step closer to our vision of becoming Europe's leading institutional full-stack digital finance platform."

Jonathan Granath, Managing Director of Hilbert Finance, added:

"We built Nordark to bridge traditional finance and the digital asset economy and joining the Hilbert brand is the next obvious step. Hilbert Finance gives us a much stronger platform from which to develop and market a broad range of institutional financial services, while benefiting from Hilbert's institutional relationships, global reach, and investment expertise."

The rebranding will be implemented during the coming months across the company's platform, customer interfaces and communications. Existing customer relationships and operations will continue without interruption.

Hilbert Group expects to provide further updates regarding new products, partnerships, regulatory milestones and additional financial services initiatives within Hilbert Finance as they are achieved.
